Few pianists today could devise such a recital—their own transcriptions and variations on well-known classics included as a matter of course—and seldom can these graceful, delightful pieces have had such consummate musicianship lavished on them. Such stuff as dreams are made on ...

CLAUDE DEBUSSY (1862–1918)
Piano Music CDA68139

'A vivid reminder that Debussy loved art as much as music, and Hough similarly paints as well as plays ... his pacing is spot-on' (Gramophone)

In the Night CDA67996

'What a pleasure it is! You should have a listen' (International Record Review) 'A new disc from Stephen Hough is always welcome. How will he surprise us this time and where will he take us?' (Gramophone)
